

equal work
deserves equal pay.

Gadsden, Alabama - Lilly Ledbetter worked at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber plant for nearly 20 years.

As she neared retirement, Lilly discovered that over the years, a large pay gap had existed between her and her male colleagues. This gap had cost her lost wages and lowered retirement earnings.

Lilly filed a gender-pay discrimination complaint and took Goodyear to court. She won a jury verdict of more than $3 million, but upon appeal, the Supreme Court threw out the case.

Lilly did not give up. She continued the fight for pay equity until Congress finally passed the Lilly Ledbetter Fair Pay Act. President Obama signed the act into law in 2009 - his first official bill as president.

Join us in hearing this incredible story of struggle and triumph for equity with guest speaker:

Lilly Ledbetter

Thursday, October 14, 2010 • 10am - 12pm

Chicago Cultural Center • GAR Hall

78 E. Washington St. • Chicago, IL

Seating is limited. Please RSVP at 312-742-0000 (voice)

